Subject: Reload Name and Personnel Changes

Watco Companies Inc., announced that effective February 6, 2009 it has changed the name of its transload and intermodal business segment from Reload, Inc. to Watco Transload and Intermodal Services (T&I). Kevin Goins has been named the SVP and COO of the T&I Services Group and he described the change as a necessary next step in the integration of Reload into the Watco family. Goins emphasized that the customers and markets are now fully aware of and understand the association of Reload, Inc. with Watco and that the brand value of the Reload name and reputation is now transferred to Watco T&I.

“The transload and intermodal side of our business is very exciting and adds another significant dimension to the quality services we can provide to our Customers,” Webb said. “We have a team that is very focused on growing our business by providing an essential service that can add value to so many Customers.”

As part of the integration, Tim Holan has joined the T&I team as the VP of Sales and Marketing.

Tim has over 20 years of rail, transloading, and logistics experience. He will be charged with leading and directing the Transload & Intermodal sales team and growing this segment of the business in an aggressive manner. Tim was formerly with MHF Logistics and in this role he created multi-million dollar logistics solutions including rail, transload, and truck for companies that transported nuclear waste, and other Haz-Mat materials.

“Tim’s ability to create value and provide solutions to our customers will be paramount in growing the Transload & Intermodal segment,” said Goins. “Tim will add a new dimension to our team and we will be able to draw upon his talents and experience in the bulk industries.”

Tim and his wife Beatriz have a 3 year old son named Liam and are looking forward to the birth of a second son the first week of April. In his spare time Tim keeps busy teaching his son about the railroad, learning Spanish, reading and playing golf.

Tim and his family will be located in Spring, Texas, which is the future home of Watco’s new regional office. Tim can be contacted by cell at 620-704-9376 or by e-mail at tholan@watcocompanies.com.

We welcome Tim to the Watco Family and wish him success in his career with the newly named Transload & Intermodal Services team.

In addition, Chris Salek will be assuming the duties of Vice President of Business Development, Transload & Intermodal Services.
