

Watco Transportation Services Announcement

Date: February 9, 2011
To: Watco Team
From: Kellie Sisler, Vice President, Revenue and Car Accounting
Subject: Brad Stroud, Assistant Manager of Revenue Accounting-Invoicing

I am pleased to announce that Brad Stroud has accepted the position of Assistant Manager of Revenue Accounting-Invoicing. I know we will all welcome Brad in his new role on the Revenue Accounting team.

Brad came to Watco over a year and a half ago and his experience, organization and skill sets have proven invaluable to the Car Accounting Team where he managed carhire implications of 9 railroads via reporting, analysis and diagnosis. In Brad's new role, he will develop his industry knowledge in the Revenue Accounting area to create more value for the Watco Team as driven by his positive attitude and desire for continuous improvement. I believe that we will all develop and learn with Brad as we work together in promoting a team environment that requires a mutually respectful culture and procures Customer First relationships (internally and externally) to create overall value to Watco and the Revenue Accounting Team.

Brad has received a bachelors degree in business administration and a masters in physical education from Pittsburg State University in Pittsburg, Kan. He also is experienced in management/training/teaching of people and management of projects/budgets.

Brad and his wife Charli have an 18-month old son, Frankie. In his spare time, Brad enjoys watching Notre Dame football and KU basketball, helping young kids develop their baseball skills, and spending time with friends and family.

Brad is working in the Pittsburg office and can be reached at 620-235-7337 or by e-mail at bstroud@watcocompanies.com.

Please join me in wishing Brad success as Assistant Manager of Revenue Accounting-Invoicing.
