

Watco Transportation Services Announcement

Date: January 3, 2011
To: Watco Team
From: John Peek, Alabama Warrior Railway, General Manager
Subject: Rick Hollis, Alabama Warrior Railway, Roadmaster

I am pleased to announce that Rick Hollis has accepted the position of Roadmaster for the Alabama Warrior Railway (ABWR). In this position Rick will be responsible for handling day to day operations, maintaining the track in all of its entirety, planning and supervising MOW work and managing MOW cost efficiencies along with maintaining safety and Customer Service.

Rick began his career in the rail industry in 1985 as a Roadmaster with Jefferson Warrior Railroad. In June of 1994 he took a Roadmaster position with the Columbus and Greenville Railroad and from October 2003 until September of 2005 he served as Engineer for the Meridian and Bigbee Railroad. From September of 2005 until January of 2009 Rick worked for the Alabama and Tennessee River Railroad as an Engineer. He joined the ABWR Team as an Engineer in January of 2009 and in April of 2009 was named Assistant Roadmaster.

Rick received a management and supervision technology degree from Jefferson State Community College.

Rick and his wife Andrea have three grown sons; Andy, 35, Chris, 32 and Lance, 31. In his free time he enjoys golfing.

He can be reached at 205-535-7237 or by e-mail at rhollis@watcocompanies.com.

Please join me in wishing Rick much success as the Alabama Warrior Roadmaster.
